Foreword . . .

This special brochure on the Bluebonnet Bowl-bound Tigers is an extra chore which we are delighted to publish. This is the second straight post-season game for Clemson, the third in four years and sixth in past 12 seasons.

The Tigers have been champions of the Atlantic Coast Conference three times (1956-58-59) since the loop was formed in 1953 and each year following the championship, played in a major bowl. (Clemson's bowl record may be found elsewhere in this brochure).

In this brochure we have tried to bring things up-to-date that aren't in the pre-season booklet. You will find such things as final 10-game statistics, post-season honors won by Clemson players, a few words on the coaches and other pertinent information which should make your coverage of the first annual Bluebonnet Bowl a little easier. We could by no means answer all of the questions that will come up so feel free to contact us at anytime for other information. We'll do our best to help.

Looking Back On '59 . . .

Summertime dopesters with the "latest inside poop" predicted that Clemson would have a good team. Most of them said the Tigers would be in the thick of the conference championship race and one of the top teams in the nation.

The Tigers grabbed the ACC laurels for the second straight year and have been ranked in the Top 20 all but one week end since the season began. Their highest rating was No. 5 following the two opening wins.

The opening game was a natural. Clemson and North Carolina were rated pre-season conference favorites. They met at Chapel Hill before 43,000 and it turned out to be one of many heart-failure games the Tigers would play. Clemson won, 20-18, but not before the Tar Heels put on a terrific last quarter rally.

Clemson met an undermanned Virginia team the following week end and drubbed the Cavaliers, 47-0, and Clemson stock began to soar.

However, the following Saturday in Atlanta, Georgia Tech slowed down the virus-ridden Clemson express with a 16-6 triumph. Fifteen of the top 22 players suffered from the virus during a 10-day period.

N. C. State and Clemson played the Tigers' first home game the next Saturday and 19,000 sat through 3.28 inches of rain to watch the Tigers triumph, 23-0.

This triumph was to be the first of four straight shutouts for the Tigers. Arch rival South Carolina was no match for Clemson and fell, 27-0; Rice of the Southwest Conference got the whitewash treatment, 19-0; and Duke also failed to cross the "alumni line" and fell, 6-0.

Then, the defense which had given up just 34 points in seven games, came apart and Maryland felled the Tigers, 28-25. Defense was no concern either in the next game and Clemson won a real donnybrook from Wake Forest, 33-31. It was probably the most exciting game ever played in Memorial Stadium. The Tigers were back on the right track and in the final game of the season ran up their biggest point total of the season, 56-3, against Furman.

The Head Man . . .

Frank Howard stated back in August that 1959 could possibly be his best year at Clemson. And that was pretty much of a mouthful when you consider the "Baron" has had two undefeated teams and carried five to bowls in the past 11 seasons.

Howard

But the youthful fella of 50 knew of the future. His Tigers responded with an 8-2 season and are now headed for the latest of the post-season games, the Bluebonnet in Houston. It is Clemson's second consecutive bowl excursion and third in four years.

Howard has just completed his 20th year as head coach at Clemson and his 29th on the staff. In his head coaching career, Clemson has won 114, lost 70 and tied 10.

Howard has been accorded many honors during his colorful career. In 1958 he registered his 100th coaching victory (against North Carolina) and then carried his team to the Sugar Bowl, which was his seventh post-season venture as a player, assistant coach and head coach. None of the major bowls have escaped Howard.

Howard's successful venture into the field of athletics started in his prep days at Murphy High in Mobile, Ala. From there he entered the University of Alabama and enjoyed four highly successful years under Coach Wallace Wade. It was here he first came in contact with Jess Neely, then an assistant coach on the 'Bama staff and former head coach at Southwestern.

When John Cody left the Clemson scene at the close of the 1930 season Neely was picked to guide the destiny of the Tigers, and he remained nine years.

Upon receiving the Clemson offer Neely picked a fresh-graduated guard, Howard, to be his line coach. These two, along with Bob Jones (Clemson end coach) and Joe Davis (Rice line coach), set about to build Clemson's grid fortunes.

Their work was climaxed with a trip to the 1940 Cotton Bowl following a 8-1-0 season. Neely then went to Rice and the Clemson Athletic Council met to name a new head coach. Howard was nominated, he seconded his own nomination, and thus began an almost unparalleled career as coach, banquet speaker, clinic lecturer and a breeder of first-class copy for news-seeking sportswriters.

Howard's fame in these categories reaches new audiences each year. This past summer he was lecturer at six clinics and his travels to touchdown clubs will carry him far and wide next December and January.

Howard not only takes full responsibility for the football team, but is also athletic director, handling all sports programs at Clemson. In his 19-plus years in that capacity, the athletic department has always been successful from a financial viewpoint.

The Clemson mentor is married to the former Anna Tribble of Anderson and they are the parents of two children, Alice and Jimmy.

ASSISTANT COACHES . . .

BOB JONES, End Coach, Clemson '30 . . . the ranking member of the coaching staff from the point of service . . . started coaching his senior year at Clemson and has never left . . . has now been associated with the school

. . . was named to the All-American basketball and football teams in 1939 . . . set three state track records, two of which—the low hurdles and broad jump—still stand . . . an outstanding punter in his collegiate days . . . took a fling at pro football . . . discharged as a major in the Air Corps . . . varsity basketball coach for 10 years . . . member of All-Time Cotton Bowl team . . . led Clemson to Southern Conference cage crown in 1939 . . . nation's most versatile athlete 1939-40 . . . married to former "Aggie" Rigby of Manning . . . father of four daughters, Patsy, 13, Lil, 11, Marcia, 8, and Jan, 6.

BOB SMITH, Line Coach, Furman '34 . . . has been at his present post for past five years, but on the staff since 1950 . . . was a three-sport man at Furman . . . was retained as assistant football coach following graduation . . . later returned to his alma mater as head football coach . . . saw Naval service during World War II . . . coached at Jacksonville Naval Air Station . . . came to Clemson as a defensive 'T' specialist . . . helped install that formation here in 1953 . . . served as baseball coach and won conference championship in 1954 and he was ACC coach of the year . . . Georgia native . . . married to the former Catherine Jordan of Dillon

DON WADE, Assistant Line Coach, Clemson '52 . . . was moved up to the varsity staff this past summer after putting in five highly successful years with freshmen

Wade

. . . will assist Smith in developing Clemson's front line of defense . . . played linebacker on two Clemson bowl teams, the 1951 Orange and 1952 Gator . . . Coached year at Waynesboro (Ga.) after graduation . . . one of his chief duties is scouting high school games . . . will also aid this fall in scouting Clemson opponents . . . formerly handled freshman baseball team . . . native of Lenoir City, Tenn. . . . is married to former Barbara Henderson of Clemson . . . father of two daughters, Donna, 7, and Beth, 3, and one son, Clint, 1.

CHARLIE WALLER, Offensive Backfield Coach, Oglethorpe '42 . . . now in his third year at Clemson . . . has developed some highly explosive backfields . . . .

NINE STATES, D. C., REPRESENTED

Nine states and the District of Columbia are represented on the Clemson traveling squad. South Carolina has the most with 17 players and running a distant second is Georgia with 11. Others are Pennsylvania with 7, New Jersey and North Carolina with four each, Maryland with two and Alabama, New York, West Virginia and District of Columbia with 1 each.

The Century Club

Ten coaches who are at major football institutions have now won 100 or more games in their career. Three of them—Bear Bryant, Ray Eliot and Johnny Vaught—joined the “Century Club” during the 1959 season. Frank Howard of the Clemson Tigers ranks sixth in the nation for the most wins in a career. Listed below are the “Century Club” members.

WORKOUT SCHEDULE

After a week layoff following the final regular season game, the Clemson team resumed workouts for the Bluebonnet Bowl Monday, Dec. 7, at Clemson. The team will hold nine workouts at home before departing for Houston Thursday, Dec. 17. They will workout in Houston that day after arrival and also the following day.

The team will remain in Houston for all post-game activities and leaves to return to Clemson at 8:15 a.m., Monday, Dec. 21.

SPORTSWRITERS ON HAND

A large number of sportswriters from South and North Carolina and Georgia will be on hand to cover the pre-game and post-game festivities of the Clemson team. Those who have signified their intentions of covering the first annual Bluebonnet Bowl are:

TRAVEL PLANS

The official Clemson traveling party numbering over 130 will leave Greenville Municipal Airport at 9 a.m., Thursday, Dec. 17, aboard two chartered airliners (one Delta and one Eastern) for Houston, arriving in the Texas city some four hours later. Clemson Headquarters will be the Shamrock Hilton Hotel. The team plans to hold Thursday and Friday workouts after arriving in Houston. Included in the traveling party are 49 players, eight coaches, two trainers, team physician, two managers, college administrators, 15 sportswriters and approximately 30 wives.

The Hon. E. F. (Fritz) Hollings, governor of South Carolina, and his wife, Pat, head a group of state dignitaries who are coming to Houston for the Bluebonnet.

The traveling party is scheduled to leave Houston International Airport at 8:15 a.m., Monday, Dec. 21 for the return flight to Greenville.

Facts Of Interest . . .

Bill Mathis' 70 points scored (seven TDs rushing, three receiving, one on a kickoff return, and two two-point conversions) were tops in the Atlantic Coast Conference for the year. These were the most points scored by a Clemson player in one year since fullback Fred Cone tallied 92 in 1950.

Harvey White's 2,026 yards passing in three years broke the old school record of 1,885 yards set by Billy Hair in 1950-51-52.

* * * * *

The 141 pass completions by Harvey White knocked two Clemson records out of the books. Billy Hair had the three-year mark of 116, but White also surpassed the 134 Don King had in four years of varsity competition in 1952-53-54-55.

* * * * *

White also set a new record for the best per cent of completions. Hair had 39.3 percent (116 of 295) in three years and Bobby Gage had 44.2 percent (123 of 278) in 1945-46-47-48. In his three years of competition White has connected on 141 of 280 attempts for 50.1 percent.

* * * * *

The 99-yard kickoff return by Bill Mathis in the Georgia Tech game was a new conference and school record. And his 143 yards on three returns against the Jackets was also a new ACC mark.

* * * * *

George Usry returned six punts against Duke this season which tied an ACC record.

* * * * *

Clemson's three backs — Doug Cline, Bill Mathis and George Usry — have gained 3,037 yards on 666 attempts in three years for a 4.6 average. Cline has 1,084 yards on 250 runs (4.3), Mathis has 954 on 210 attempts (4.5) and Usry has 999 yards on 206 tries (4.8).

* * * * *

When Clemson fullback Doug Cline was voted the top blocker in the Atlantic Coast Conference this fall, it marked the first time a Clemson player had received the honor since the league was formed in 1953. However, he was the fourth straight fullback to be so selected.
